21. “And” and “or” shall be construed conjunctively or disjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the discovery request all responses that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope, and the use of the singular form of any word includes the plural and vice versa.

22. “Any” and “all” shall mean one or more.

23. The term “date” means the exact day, month and year, if ascertainable; and if not ascertainable, the closest approximation that can be made by means of relationship to other events, locations or matters.

24. The terms “reflecting,” “referring,” “relating to,” “concerning” or any derivation thereof shall mean, without limitation, consisting of, constituting, containing, mentioning, describing, summarizing, evidencing, listing, indicating, analyzing, explaining, supporting, undermining, contradicting, concerning, pertaining to, prepared in connection with, used in preparation for, or being in any way legally, logically, or factually connected with the matter discussed.

25. “Including” shall mean without limitation.

26. The term “writings,” “recordings,” and “photographs” are defined to be synonymous in meaning and equal in scope to the usage of those terms in Fed. R. Evid. 1001.

27. Unless the request specifically states otherwise, references to the singular shall include the plural and vice versa; references to one gender shall include the other gender; references to the past including the present and vice versa; and disjunctive terms include the conjunctive and vice versa.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Each requested document shall be produced in its entirety, including all attachments and enclosures. If a portion of a document is responsive to a request, produce the entire document, including all attachments, enclosures, “post-it”-type notes, and any other matter physically attached to the document. If a document responsive to any request cannot be produced in full, it shall be produced to the extent possible with an explanation stating why production of the remainder is not possible.

2. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 34, all documents produced in response to these Requests for Production shall be produced in such a way as to identify the request that they are responsive to or in the same order as they are kept in the ordinary course of business and, where attached, shall not be separated or disassembled. If the documents responsive to any request are normally kept in a file or folder, also produce that file or folder with any labels attached thereto, and indicate the company, division, department, and/or individual from whose files the document is being produced. If responsive documents are segregated or separated from other documents, whether by inclusion in binders, files, sub-files, or by use of dividers, tabs or any other method, produce such documents in that form.

3. Furnish all available documents in Your possession, custody, or control. You must search computerized files, emails, voice mails, work files, desk files, calendars and diaries, and any other locations and sources if the requested materials might plausibly exist there.

4. Respond to each request by affirmatively stating in writing the full extent to which You will produce materials. Promptly after production, confirm in writing that You have produced all materials that You could locate after a diligent search of all locations that might plausibly have such materials. You may not respond that You have produced or will produce “responsive” materials.

5. If You do not possess information to answer any request for documents, You are under a duty to make a reasonable effort to obtain such information.

6. Produce electronic records and computerized information in an intelligible format, together with a description of the system from which they came, sufficient to permit rendering the records and information intelligible.

7. Select and number the documents with sufficient information to ensure identification of the source and sequence of each document. If documents are being produced on behalf of more than one Plaintiff, state as much.

8. If, in responding these document requests, You assert a privilege to any particular request, You must identify the nature of the privilege (including attorney work product) that is being claimed, and, if the privilege is governed by state law, indicate the state’s privilege rule being invoked. In addition, You must sufficiently describe and identify the privilege to permit Cox and the Court to make an informed decision as to whether the matter is indeed privileged.

9. The definitions and instructions set forth in Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(5) are incorporated herein by reference.

10. If You seek to withhold any information based on some limitation of discovery (including, but not limited to, a claim of privilege) applicable to any document, provide all parts of the document within the scope of the requests that are not subject to privilege. For each item of information contained in a document to which You claim privilege, provide at least the following:

- a) the privilege You are asserting and the factual basis;
- b) the names and positions of the author of the document and all other persons participating in the preparation of the document;
- c) the name and position of each individual or other person who received the information in the document;
- d) the date of the document;
- e) a description of any accompanying material transmitted with or attached to such document;
- f) the number of pages in the document;
- g) the particular request to which the document is responsive;
- h) whether the document has any discussion of business or non-legal matters; and
- i) the steps You took to ensure the confidentiality of the document.

For email or message threads that contain multiple emails/messages, provide the above information for each email/message.

11. If Your response to a particular request is a statement that You lack the ability to furnish documents in that request, You must specify whether the inability to comply is because the particular item of information never existed, has been destroyed, has been lost, misplaced, or stolen, or has never been, or is no longer in Your possession, custody, or control, in which case identify the name and address of any person or entity You know or believe to have possession, custody, or control of that information.

12. If a document once existed and has later been lost, destroyed, or otherwise missing, please identify the document and state the details concerning the disposition of the document.

13. If, in responding to these document requests, You claim any ambiguity in interpreting either a request or a definition or instruction applicable thereto, such claim shall not be utilized by You as a basis for refusing to respond, but You shall set forth as part of Your response to the request the language deemed to be ambiguous and the interpretation You choose to use in responding to the request.

14. If You have a good-faith objection to any request or any part of any request, state the specific nature of the objection and whether it applies to the entire request or to specific parts of a request. If the objection relates to only a part or parts of a request, identify the objectionable part or parts and identify or produce any and all documents responsive to the remaining parts.

15. Each request is continuing in nature. If, after responding to these requests, You obtain or become aware of further documents, such documents shall be produced promptly in accordance with Rule 26(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the definitions and instructions herein.

Request No. 78:

All copyright infringement notices that You will rely on in this litigation not otherwise produced in response to Request Nos. 77 & 78.

Request No. 79:

All documents that You claim demonstrate Cox's receipt of any of the copyright infringement notices that You will rely on this litigation, including those referenced in paragraphs 88, 91, and 95 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 80:

All documents that You claim demonstrate Cox's knowledge of any of the copyright infringement notices upon which You will rely in this litigation, including those referenced in paragraphs 88, 91, and 95 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 81:

All documents that You claim demonstrate Cox's knowledge of any of the copyright infringement alleged by You in this litigation.

Request No. 82:

All documents that support Your claim that You or someone on Your behalf prepared copyright notices to be sent to Cox beyond the 200,000 referenced in paragraph 92 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 83:

All documents that support Your claim that You or someone on Your behalf sent copyright notices to Cox beyond the 200,000 referenced in paragraph 92 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 84:

Documents sufficient to identify who prepared for and/or sent to Cox the copyright notices beyond the 200,000 referenced in paragraph 92 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 85:

Documents sufficient to identify who prepared and/or sent the copyright notices that You will rely on in this litigation.

Request No. 86:

Documents that identify, in any respect, including by IP address, the Cox subscribers, account holders, or customers who You claim have infringed the Copyright Works for which you seek relief in this litigation.

Request No. 87:

All documents concerning efforts, whether by You or by third parties, to identify individuals (including efforts to obtain names, IP addresses, email addresses, or other Personally Identifiable Information) whom You believe infringed or attempted to infringe the Copyright Works online.

Request No. 88:

All documents concerning efforts to identify individuals (including efforts to obtain names, IP addresses, email addresses, or other Personally Identifiable Information) who participated in or used online file-sharing services, including but not limited to peer-to-peer file sharing sites.

Request No. 89:

All documents concerning communications with, or attempts to contact, individuals or entities You believe infringed or attempted to infringe the Copyright Works online, including but not limited to infringement or attempted infringement by means of peer-to-peer file sharing sites.

Request No. 90:

Documents that You claim demonstrate that the Copyright Works were infringed, including all documents that You claim demonstrate that “Cox’s subscribers, using Internet access and services provided by Cox, have unlawfully reproduced and distributed via BitTorrent or other P2P networks thousands of sound recordings and musical compositions[,]” as alleged in paragraph 106 of Your Complaint

Request No. 91:

All documents concerning the actual knowledge of Cox of any particular infringement of the Copyright Works at a time that Cox could prevent that infringement.

Request No. 92:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox had reason to know of any particular infringement of the Copyright Works at a time that Cox could prevent that infringement.

Request No. 93:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox knew that “its subscribers routinely used its networks for illegal downloading and uploading of copyrighted works, especially music[,]” as alleged in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 94:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox had “knowledge that its network was being used for copyright infringement on a massive scale,” as alleged in paragraph 107 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 95:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox “knew of specific subscribers engaged in such repeated and flagrant infringement,” as alleged in paragraph 107 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 96:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox “facilitated” the infringement of the Copyright Works by “continuing to provide its network and the facilities necessary for its subscribers to commit repeated infringements,” as alleged in paragraph 107 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 97:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox “encouraged” the infringement of the Copyright Works by “continuing to provide its network and the facilities necessary for its subscribers to commit repeated infringements,” as alleged in paragraph 107 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 98:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox “materially contributed” to the infringement of the Copyright Works by “continuing to provide its network and the facilities necessary for its subscribers to commit repeated infringements,” as alleged in paragraph 107 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 99:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox “purposefully ignor[ed] and turn[ed] a blind eye to [] flagrant and repeated infringement by its subscribers,” as You allege in paragraph 108 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 100:

All documents that support Your claim that any acts by Cox alleged in paragraphs 105-109 of Your complaint were “willful, intentional, and purposeful, and in disregard of Plaintiffs’ rights,” as alleged in paragraph 110 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 101:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint that “Cox condoned [] illegal activity because it was popular with subscribers and acted as a draw in attracting and retaining subscribers.”

Request No. 102:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint that Cox “recognized that if it prevented its repeat infringer subscribers from using its service, or made it less attractive for such use, Cox would enroll fewer new subscribers, lose existing subscribers, and lose revenue.”

Request No. 103:

All documents that support Your allegation that Cox made its “service,” as that term is used in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint, “attractive” for copyright infringement.

Request No. 104:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint that “[i]n return” for Cox’s alleged actions, its “customers purchased more bandwidth”

Request No. 105:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint that Cox “obliged” its “subscribers who wanted to download files illegally at faster speeds[.]”

Request No. 106:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 88 of Your Complaint that Cox charged “higher rates” to allow its “subscribers” who “download[ed] files illegally[.]”

Request No. 107:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox was incentivized, financially or otherwise, to permit its subscribers, account holders, or customers to engage in copyright infringement on its network.

Request No. 108:

All documents that support Your claim that Cox had or has a direct financial interest in the infringement of the Copyright Works.

Request No. 109:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 3 of Your Complaint that “Cox’s profits increased dramatically as a result of the massive infringement that it facilitated”

Request No. 110:

All documents that demonstrate any correlation, connection, or cause and effect relationship between Cox’s act of terminating its subscriber’s, account holder’s, or customer’s Internet service due to alleged or complained of copyright infringement and the subsequent status of that subscriber’s, account holder’s or customer’s telephone or video services, such as the subscriber’s, account holder’s, or customer’s decision to maintain or terminate those services.

Request No. 111:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 96 of Your Complaint that Cox possessed the “legal right ... to prevent or limit the infringements occurring on its network.”

Request No. 112:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 96 of Your Complaint that Cox possessed the “obligation ... to prevent or limit the infringements occurring on its network.”

Request No. 113:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 96 of Your Complaint that Cox possessed the “technical ability ... to prevent or limit the infringements occurring on its network.”

Request No. 114:

All documents concerning any analysis regarding Cox’s “technical ability ... to prevent or limit the infringements occurring on its network.”

Request No. 115:

All documents that support the allegation in paragraph 96 of Your Complaint that “Cox is the gatekeeper of the network over which data—including infringing works—is transferred.”

Request No. 116:

All documents concerning the ability of Cox to avoid, limit, or restrict particular infringements of the Copyright Works.

Request No. 117:

All documents concerning actions You or any other Plaintiff believes Cox could have taken, other than monitoring its service or terminating service to subscribers, account holders, or customers, in order to avoid, limit, or restrict particular infringements of the Copyright Works.

Request No. 118:

All documents concerning an ISP’s response to receiving an infringement notice from any entity, including the “representatives” identified in paragraph 2 of Your Complaint.

Request No. 119:
